

Friday 23 March 2012 saw a team from one of ANZ banks finance departments come down to Queens Park for some Boneseed and Sweet Pittosporum removal. The ANZ staff were joined by students from Lorne college in the afternoon. A great day was had by all despite occasional showers passing through. A huge amount of Boneseed and Sweet Pittosporum was removed between the lookouts on the southern section of the park.

See the photo below for the great team that came down to help out.
